

Mark Your Calendar!

M&M 2017 – August 6-10, 2017

Plan now to attend the largest scientific meeting in the world devoted to microscopy and microanalysis, in historic St. Louis, Missouri. Meeting travel awards are available for students, post-docs and technologists!

Society members are entitled to reduced registration rates. Visit the society websites for detailed membership information.

M&M 2017
MICROSCOPY &
MICROANALYSIS
August 6-10, 2017 • St. Louis, MO

The M&M 2017 Executive Program Committee is planning a program full of symposia, short courses, tutorials, workshops, and 120+ exhibitors with the latest technological developments.

M&M 2017 Call for Papers

Paper Submission
Site OPENS:
December 1, 2016

Paper Submission
DEADLINE:
February 15, 2017

August 6-10, 2017

SAVE
THE DATE

The scientific program will have a number of symposium topics featuring 1000+ platform and poster presentations, with meeting highlights to include:

75th Anniversary of the Microscopy Society of America –

For the diamond anniversary of MSA, a special symposium will be offered: Diamonds: From the Origins of the Universe to Quantum Sensing.

The Microanalysis Society will be celebrating its 50th Anniversary!

Plenary Speakers – We are excited to announce that Nobel Laurate Dr. Eric Betzig and U.S. Centers for Disease Control & Prevention International Laboratory Branch Chief Dr. John Nkengasong will give plenary presentations.

Gina Sosinsky Memorial Symposium – Imaging of Cellular Communications

A special symposium celebrating 50 Years of Atom Probe Tomography

Two Pre-Meeting Congresses!

- Focused Ion Beams
- Aberration-Corrected Electron Microscopy

<http://www.microscopy.org/MandM/2017>

Follow Us! @MicroscopySoc #MM2017STL
for the most recent updates & announcements